Leadership Isn't For Cowards, How to Lead Courageously in a Turbulent Age

Mike Staver

We live in an age when it is more and more challenging to manage all of the information, demands and challenges that are coming at us. It takes real courage to stand firm in what you believe and then to get your followers to understand what really matters and how to execute effectively. Your ability to influence your followers is key to every step of creating significant results. Courage is the key element in that process.

Mike Staver is an internationally respected coach and speaker. He has been interviewed for many publications on his signature speaking and writing topic "Leadership Isn't for Cowards" and how to build high performance firms and his new book with the same title released in 2013. With a master's degree in counseling psychology and a bachelor's degree in business administration, he has found a way to make complex ideas simple, memorable and immediately applicable. He is a Certified Speaking Professional (CSP), a designation held by fewer than 10% of the members belonging to the International Federation for Professional Speakers. Mike is a best-selling author and award winning speaker.

Some of his work has been recognized by Training magazine as top 10 in the world and he has been recognized by Meetings and Conventions Magazine as one of the 40 hottest speakers in America. He has conducted industry-specific research on the traits that make leaders thrive and has had those findings built into a one of a kind national leadership certification.

Learning objectives:

After attending this presentation, attendees will learn:

- The real definition of courage
- The three most important steps you will ever take
- The power of commitment
- What your followers do, really do, when you are not around
- The primary motivator of all people
- The three things every leader can do to insure leadership failure
- The importance of high gain activity and how to do more of it
- Six steps that will insure effective execution

Engagement: Harnessing Organizational Energy for Transformational Change

David L. Taylor III, MSN, RN, CNOR

Unlike typical speakers, David Taylor spends most of his time in the trenches of healthcare institutions. Whether he is wearing his consulting hat or working as a healthcare leader you will find him shadowing employees and learning what it means to do their job. Be it the sterile processing department, scrubbing in the OR, or circulating cases, David isn't afraid to get his hands dirty. As Founder and President of Resolute Advisory Group, LLC, David knows what it takes to create and maintain a world-class service organization. He should... he has spent more than 30 years working at all levels within surgical services helping to train and align employees toward one goal: providing simply the best patient care experience, each and every time.

David is currently serving as the Director of the CVOR at Methodist Hospital in San Antonio, Texas. David is a long-time member of Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing. He holds a Master's degree in nursing from the University of the Incarnate Word and has his Lean Healthcare Certification from Villanova University.

David is passionate about his profession and speaks nationally on leadership topics in healthcare. He also has numerous published papers and articles in nationally recognized peer review journals on various perioperative topics.

Learning objectives:

After attending this presentation, attendees will be able to:

- Understand how employee engagement impacts the delivery of exceptional care
- Describe the important personal leadership qualities of today's nurse leaders and techniques that can help inspire your teams
- Identify key issues nursing leaders must understand in order to begin their cultural journey
